MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER

07 Civ. 2757 (SAS) (THK)

SHIRA A. SCHEINDLIN, U.S.D.J.:

I have reviewed the Report and Recommendation of United States Magistrate Judge Theodore H. Katz, dated April 28, 2009 (“R&R”), which recommends that the above-captioned habeas petition, brought pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2254 (“section 2254”), be denied and that a certificate of appealability not issue. On May 6, 2009, this Court received a “Notice of Motion” from pro se petitioner Anthony Jackson which consisted of his objections to the R&R (hereinafter referred to as the “Objections”). I have reviewed petitioner’s Objections as well as the original section 2254 petition in detail. I have also reviewed the R&R for clear error.

In his Objections, Jackson does not cite specific portions of the R&R to which he objects. Nor does he explain why Judge Katz’s legal analysis is faulty or incorrect with regard to any particular issue. Instead, Jackson simply restates some of the arguments he originally made in his section 2254 petition without explaining why the conclusions contained in the R&R are erroneous with regard to any of those claims.

A general objection to the entirety of the magistrate's report has the same effects as would a failure to object. The district court's attention is not focused on any specific issues for review, thereby making the initial reference to the magistrate useless. The functions of the district court are effectively duplicated as both the magistrate and the district court perform identical tasks. This duplication of time and effort wastes judicial resources rather than saving them, and runs contrary to the purposes of the Magistrates Act. We would hardly countenance an appellant's brief simply objecting to the district court's determination without explaining the source of the error. We should not permit appellants to do the same to the district court reviewing the magistrate's report.<sup>1</sup>

Objections to an R&R "are not a subsequent opportunity to reargue the merits of a case, they are an opportunity to demonstrate to this Court particular errors" in the reasoning of the Magistrate Judge.<sup>2</sup> "The purpose of the Federal Magistrates Act Without more specific objections from Jackson, this Court has no basis to reject the findings and conclusions of Judge Katz which I have determined, on independent review, to be legally sound.<sup>6</sup> My review also failed to disclose any clear error on the part of the Magistrate Judge. Accordingly, I hereby adopt the thorough and thoughtful R&R in full and dismiss Jackson's habeas petition.<sup>7</sup> Furthermore, because I agree with Judge Katz that Jackson has not made a substantial showing of a denial of a constitutional right, as required by 28 U.S.C. § 2253(c)(2), I decline to issue a certificate of appealability.
